VOL. III. RALEIGH, N. C., TUESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1867. NO. 17.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

From the New York World.

THE BEGINNING OF A POLITICAL REACTION.

How does it happen that President Johnson feels encouraged to act with greater vigor and decision now, than he has evinced at any previous time since his accession? There must be something in the present temper of the public mind, or at least in the President's estimate of it, which emboldens him to do things from which he has heretofore seemed to recoil. Never before has he acted under so many official disabilities as since the adjournment of the last Congress; and nothing but a more confident reliance on the people can explain his unwonted readiness to assume responsibilities. Is the President under a delusion? or are there solid grounds for his new confidence?

If we turn from the "pillar of State" to the straws and weather cocks of politics, we shall find changes still more marked; their levity and mobility causing them easily to veer with changes in the direction of the wind. There is a journal in this city which is conducted on the principle of floating always with the drift of public sentiment, and of shifting its course by a prompt anticipation of coming changes. That journal has completely altered its tone within the last two or three weeks. Its constant tendency to turn its back upon the setting and worship the rising sun, forbids us to suppose that it is actuated by any other motive than a desire to be on the strong side. It may, indeed, be mistaken in its judgment; but if so, the mistake cannot be attributed to partiality for the Democratic party, which has for years been the object of its derisive abuse.

Letting the indications to which we have alluded pass for what they are worth, we will inquire if there is not more trustworthy evidence that a change has come over the spirit of our politics. That there is a change, and a great change, in the tone of the public mind, is evinced by no other fact so clearly as by the strong disposition to nominate General Grant for the Presidency. The great moderation of General Grant's character and opinions is entirely dissonant to the extreme views and the fierce acrimonious intolerance which have heretofore characterized the Republican party. When the scalding zealotry of such a party has sufficiently cooled down for a large portion of it to think seriously of running a man of neutral or doubtful politics for the Presidency, its aggressive spirit must be pretty well broken. It signifies little, practically, that there is in the Republican party a strenuous opposition to the nomination of Grant. If all who prefer Grant were to desert it, the party would be a hopeless minority. The Grant men have got to be conciliated and kept or the sceptre has departed from the Republicans. But it is utterly vain to hope that after the spirit of the party has been once let down to the dead level of General Grant's politics and to the moderation and reticence of his character, that it will again flame up to the pitch of intensity. The coquetting with Grant has demoralized the Republican party. It has so blunted the edge of its zeal that the party can never renew its career of victory. The great ebb of party feeling being so manifest, it is quite certain that, even if General Grant desired the Republican nomination, he would not be so imprudent as to make committals in opposition to the drift of public sentiment, and to his own antecedents. When the Republicans are spontaneously descending to his level, he is surely under no necessity of raising himself to theirs. General Grant's great personal availability is, at present, the controlling fact of our politics. It is causing the public opinion of the country to settle steadily and rapidly to the level of his moderation.

The Republican party is still further weakened by the fact that it has no longer any practical issue to present in the elections.—What will be the national issue this fall? Not certainly the old issue between the President's plan of restoration and that of Congress. That issue is practically decided, and the President acquiesces. The Southern States are to be reconstructed under the present laws, which the President consents to execute. The rival plans of reconstruction are a dead issue. It cannot be galvanized even into a transient appearance of life. Can the removal of Stanton be made an issue? It would be a very awkward one for the Republicans, considering that General Grant is Stanton's successor, and half the Republican party wish to run Grant for President. Will the removal of Sheridan be made an issue? This would be scarcely less awkward, considering that a pronounced Radical like General Thomas replaces Sheridan, and that even Thomas is forbidden to soften or modify any of Sheridan's orders. Grant as the successor of Stanton, and as the virtual successor of Sheridan, by the bridle he puts upon Thomas, forms a wall against which the Republicans will not butt their heads with any great vigor, considering that so large a portion of their own party have enlisted under Grant's banner. What, then, is the Republican issue? Will some Republican paper tell us?

The local issues, in the several States, will work to the disadvantage of the Republicans. The chief of these is negro suffrage at home; but negro suffrage at home is nowhere popular out of New England. Even in New England, and at that time the Republican State of Connecticut, the issue of negro suffrage at home has been presented since the war, and the Republicans badly beaten on it. It is presented this fall in the great State of Ohio; it is to be presented in the great State of New York; and in both it will lose the Republicans tens of thousands of votes. Consistency compels them to present this issue, but consistency cannot save them from defeat on it. Moreover, the people are becoming enlightened as to the consequences of negro suffrage in the South. They see that it leads inevitably to negro office-holding, negro Senators and Representatives in Congress, and a negro balance of power in the politics of the country. The control of our politics by a few millions of Southern negroes will be regarded as more odious and intolerable than was the alleged ascendancy of a few hundred thousand Southern slaveholders. Conferring votes upon the Northern negroes for the sake of bringing the whole country into harmony with a negro balance of power in our national politics, is a proposal which, in the altered tone of public feeling, will open the road to something very different from Republican success.

Last year, the Republicans carried most of the elections, by inflammatory appeals based on the then recent New Orleans riot. This year, they have no bloody shirt to carry in their processions as a banner. And the nearness of the Presidential election so divides them by personal preferences and antipathies that the party is without coherence or unity, as it is without national issues and mischievous fire-brands. General Grant has been spread, like a wet blanket, over such of their combustibles as are not burnt out, and it is beyond their skill to kindle a new conflagration.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GUILFORD LAND AGENCY,

OF NORTH CAROLINA.

BRANCH OFFICE, RALEIGH, N. C.

PRINCIPAL OFFICE, GREENSBORO, N. C.

Persons having Agricultural and Mineral Lands, Water Powers, Town Lots and all kinds of Real Estate for sale, are respectfully invited to place them in our hands for that purpose, as our facilities for bringing purchasers from Northern States and placing property prominently before the public, through our advertisements, and also through our agencies and correspondents in the North and West, are unsurpassed. WE ARE NOW WAITING FOR LANDS TO BE PLACED IN OUR HANDS FOR SALE, in order to sell to a party of substantial farmers from the North.

Our terms are as follows: Persons placing property in the hands of the Guilford Land Agency of North Carolina, will be charged five per cent. commission on all amounts realized. Five dollars entrance fee must be paid when the property is placed in our hands.

Persons at a distance wishing to place property in our hands should give us an accurate description of the same. If Agricultural Lands, they should specify the soil, number of acres of cleared and timbered lands, the kind of timber, what is raised on the land, what kind of improvements are on the premises, how far from Railroad and from County-seat; whether it is well watered, &c. If MINERAL LANDS, they should state what kind of Minerals, the indications, &c., always sending a good fair specimen of the ore. It would also be advisable to send a sketch of the land to us.

A CHEAP COTTON PRESS.

Having been notified that a patent has been allowed me for a new and improved COTTON PRESS, I offer for sale State, County and individual rights.

This press is offered as combining more advantages for packing Cotton than any now in use. It is adapted to large or small farms; is so simple and cheap in construction that any good mechanic can build it; takes less man and horse-power to work it, with no exposure to the weather, and less waste of Cotton, than any other.

I have permission to offer, as references, Messrs. Peter E. Smith, W. H. Smith, D. Edmondson and T. Vaughan, of Scotland Neck N. C., all of whom have used it with great satisfaction on their plantations. Those who put up Screws will be sorry for it.

PATENT IMPROVED METHOD OF

SINKING WELLS,

OR

THE NEW LABOR SAVING

ECONOMICAL PUMPS.

HAVING PURCHASED THE ENTIRE AND exclusive right to the patent improved method of sinking Wells, for the State of North Carolina, we desire to have a good and reliable Agent in every county of the State.

As it is desirable for every family to have an abundant supply of water, on their own premises, for convenience, safety and economy, the sale of this Pump offers a fine opening for an enterprising man in each county, to engage in profitable business.

OUR PRICES ARE FOR No. 1 SIZE, $25;
No. 2, $30,
WITH A LIBERAL DISCOUNT TO AGENTS.

We have a No. 2 Pump in operation in front of our Store, No. 22, Pollock Street, which was sunk in an hour, and supplies about 3,000 GALLONS of pure water per day. They can also be seen in operation at the Gaston House, and at other places in Newbern; also at Kinston, Beaufort, Morehead city, and at many other places.

This is the cheapest and most speedy mode of obtaining water in any section, as you can exclude any stream of water reached, which is not satisfactory, and obtain only that which is most desirable.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1867.

We are now threatened with a negro representative from each Congressional district in the South, and the code which is to govern the United States may receive laws based upon ignorance instead of education. The wave must be stopped.—N. Y. Herald.

The Herald begins to realize,—we fear at too late a period,—the almost certain consequences of the insane and ruinous policy which it has been so largely instrumental in forcing upon the South, and, thereby, upon the country at large. In the opposing face of all experience and history, and in utter defiance of the suggestions of reason, right and ordinary political foresight, a mad and inflamed party have invested an ignorant [illegible] rible mistake, and its now sure results, however, might have been obviated in some degree, had not the same vindictive passions impelled them to take away those attributes from a large portion of the intelligence and moral worth of the community, which has heretofore contributed so materially to build up the character of the government and illustrate the value of Republican institutions. Never was so frightful an error committed before, and it is impossible to contemplate its effects without shuddering.

The results of registration in the South demonstrate that a majority of the ten excluded States will fall inevitably under negro domination, while in all of them the municipal and local governments, in eight cases out of ten, will be Africanized. The Herald is not alone in its alarm at such a prospect. There are indications that the fever of apprehension is spreading at the North, and, even in our own midst, many of those men who have sympathized with the action of Congress, without having the penetration or sagacity to foresee its tendencies, are waking up to gloomy forebodings as to the situation. This is amply evidenced, if other proofs were wanting, by the character of the telegram which we published, on yesterday, from Wilmington, where the white "Republican" element is probably stronger, owing to its peculiar location and floating population, than at any other point in the State. These men are becoming excited at the idea of having a negro Mayor and negro Councilmen. Had they remained North, they would doubtless have looked upon such an occurrence with indifference, or, perhaps, with satisfaction. But the same feeling which prompts the people of the Northern States to reject negro suffrage and negro eligibility to office, in its practical application to them, leads them to fear and oppose the effects of its establishment where they have transferred their citizenship and invested their property. A natural indignation might induce one, were it not for the ruinous results to the community at large, to rejoice that they were about to be compelled to drink from the chalice which they have commended to the lips of others.

A celebrated authoress, the wife of the Poet Shelley, wrote a remarkable but revolting fiction, which has almost passed out of print, entitled "Frankenstein, or the modern Prometheus." A student of the occult sciences,—the black art,—reached the secret of human vitalism, and constructed from exhumed bones and skull a human frame, into which he infused the animative spark of life. The creation was horrible in form and appearance, and, as the result of the student's temerity in tampering with things forbidden to humanity, the monster haunted him through the remainder of his life,—never separating himself from the presence of the unhappy youth, searing his sight by day and presiding over his visions at night.—There is danger that the experiment, in a modified form, has been repeated by modern Radicalism. They have evoked a spirit which will not "down at their bidding," and all efforts to shake it off, we fear, will be unavailing. They have done more mischief to the country at large, and to both races, than they will be able to repair by long years of repentance. So much comes of reversing the decrees of nature, and elevating to political domination over the white race in the South, a people who are unfitted for the duties and responsibilities of government, and who can only become qualified for them after a long training and close education.

ROWAN COUNTY.

Thus far, in the matter of registration, Rowan is the Banner County. The white majority in the County will probably be six or seven hundred. In some of the extreme Western counties, the plurality will be greater, but there were but few slaves in that section of the State. The promptness and unanimity with which the people of Rowan have registered is attributable, doubtless, to the fact, that intelligent gentlemen gave the county a thorough canvass, and urged upon all classes the importance of registration. We have repeatedly pressed the necessity of a similar course in all the counties. Had our counsel been heeded, the results would have been marked.

It is not too late, by any means, to adopt the plan, now. Ample opportunity will be afforded, before the revision of the Registrars' books takes place; and we earnestly and respectfully impress it upon gentlemen, enjoying the popular confidence, in the various counties, to "take the stump" and urge the fatal consequences of a failure of the white citizens to register, who are qualified to do so.

THE ROUND TABLE is of the opinion that "a high and chivalrous respect for women has ever been an acknowledged characteristic of Southern men." That's so.

A GRAMMAR OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE, for the use of Schools and Academies, with copious parsing exercises; by WM. BINGHAM, A. M., Superintendent of the Bingham School. Phila: E. H. Butler & Co.

This book has been on our table for several days, but a notice of it has been inadvertently delayed. We are glad that Col. Bingham's success, in the production of his popular Latin Grammar, has emboldened him to produce the book before us. Numerous as English Grammars are, there was ample room for this one, if our first impressions of the few first pages are confirmed by further examination. Col. B. has the boldness to eliminate from English Grammar both orthography and prosody, which certainly never belonged to it, and which must be learned, if learned at all, from other books. He reduces, too, very properly, Murray's nine parts of speech to eight, and follows closely, in the structure and scope of the book, the Grammars of the German editions of the Latin and Greek Grammars. This plan is commendable, both for its practical as well as philosophical uses.

We thank Col. Bingham for the removal of much that has been useless and cumbrous in former Grammars, and especially that he has avoided that pestiferous practice of filling them with questions. That very prevalent [illegible] duction of almost all modern school-books, we hope to see universally ignored by Southern school-book makers everywhere.

We hope to see Bingham's English Grammar as universally popular and in use, as his Latin Grammar seems to be. Any teacher of English Grammar, qualified for his position, can not desire any better text book.

"The New York Tribune says that when Wendell Phillips "has proved that the colored people have a greater natural fitness for public employment than any other race, it will be time enough to ask us to vote for them simply on the ground that they are not white."

Why, pertinently asks the Lynchburg News, did not Wendell Phillips and the Tribune require similar evidence as to their fitness for exercising the elective franchise, before investing them therewith? If they are competent to vote, they are fit to be voted for. If they are enfranchised "simply on the ground that they are not white," they can properly be supported for office from the same consideration. Take it coolly, gentlemen—the physic is beginning to work; and the chances are that you will have this nostrum of Radical mountebanks crammed down your throats usque ad nauseam.

A Republican mass meeting will be held at Wild Cat, Black River District, New Hanover County, on the 2d Saturday in September.—Wilmington Post.

An appropriate place for such a meeting. So-called modern "Republicanism" is about as bogus as the notorious "Wild Cat" banking system of the South-West, while it is undoubtedly and essentially "black."

THE NATIONAL Intelligencer, of Saturday, has an editorial urging the re-organization of the Cabinet, upon the ground that it is absolutely necessary that the President's advisers should be in full accord with the Executive, as well in sentiment as in the practical working of the Departments.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

MOREHEAD, Aug. 26, 1867.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It may be interesting to some of your readers to learn something of the farming interest of Carteret county.

In many portions of the county the lands are of a superior quality, especially for cotton raising. The lands on North River, some 6 to 10 miles Northeast of Beaufort, are particularly adapted to cotton culture. Eleven bales have been made from seven acres. But you may have seen in the Newbern Journal of Commerce, of the 21st inst., a communication which tells of the lands and present cotton crop of Carteret. Those alluded to are chiefly reclaimed swamp.—But nearly all the lands North and East of Newport village are susceptible of the highest culture, inasmuch as material for enriching such as may need it, is here to be had in the greatest abundance. Salt marsh turf, mixed with blue marl, and besides plenty of shells for lime; add to these millions of the fish from which oil is pressed, to be had for the catching, or they can be bought from $1,25 to $1,50 per thousand for composting. These fish are the same kind that have been used in Rhode Island and Connecticut for enriching their lands during the past twenty-five years. A thousand of them weigh 1,500 to 2,000 pounds. These "Menhaden" (as they are called North, or "Fat Backs" as they are called here,) make a very valuable compost; say two cart loads of fish to twenty cart loads of swamp muck, ditch bank, or bead land, will make compost sufficient for an acre, the fertilizing effect of which is superior to any Guano.

In this neighborhood there are Oil Factories established by Northern men who press the oil from the "fat back" fish, ship it North, and sell the fish grease to the up country farmers by tons, at prices that must make for the oil pressers a splendid business. In this connection let me say, that Carteret County can beat any of the best lands west of Raleigh for wheat raising. Fifteen to twenty bushels per acre is a very common yield, and on the lands improved by fish compost, I doubt not that double the above bushels per acre can be harvested.—And I have often asked why farmers from the worn out lands west of Raleigh do not come to this region for farms, instead of leaving the "Good Old State" to toil on other lands. Very little though is known by North Carolinians of this section of our State. Persons simply visiting Morehead City, Beaufort and the sea shore, know nothing of the lands of Carteret, but are impressed with the idea that all is sand, while near by are as fine clay loamy lands as can be found anywhere. And the swamp lands are more than equal, in fertility, to the best lands of Hyde County. The region is healthy, the salt air reaching miles away from the sea. I will add that for the small farmer especially, this country offers the strongest inducements, as nowhere can the necessaries of life be had so easily and so abundantly; fish, oysters, &c. in great plenty, while vegetables and fruits of all kinds mature for use very early. Stocks need no wintering and from the abundance of fish, &c., only two-thirds the quantity of meat is required for support. "Milk and Honey" are plenty, and this region is the home of the grape and fig.

S.

Forney's Chronicle has a long article endorsing Pope's proposition to exile all the leading opponents of the Radical party in the South, which proposition the Chronicle calls "practical statesmanship."

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

DEEP RIVER, N. C., Aug 24.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It would not be an easy thing to estimate the loss sustained by your city, and the country, generally, by the lack of steam transportation from this region to Raleigh, or some other outlet.—Here lies immense wealth; coal, iron, and water power enough to enrich this whole surrounding country, if it could only be made available.

After thorough and numerous investigations and developments, made by the venerated Prof. Mitchell, and Prof. Emmons, and the more recent explorations by our present efficient State Geologist, the country has become familiar with the coal and iron deposits along Deep River. The policy that remains for us is, to work up the material pointed out to us by these proficients.

In its passage through Chatham county, the Deep River rolls by a long, large and excellent deposit of coal, that stretches mile after mile, not parallel with the river, but accessible to it from all points. The quality of the coal has, again and again, been asserted to be of a high grade. It is bituminous. It answers all the ordinary purposes of manufacturing, cooking and house-heating purposes.

The iron is lower down the course of the river, but available, and abundant.

The River is well named. Although not wide, it is, nevertheless, a very deep stream, as currents running through sandy districts [illegible] can tell whether the freshets in the Cape Fear are caused by freshets in the Haw or Deep Rivers, its two tributaries, by the color of the water. The Haw River flows through red land, the Deep through white land. There are, often times, freshets in either one of these tributaries, but not in the other at the same time. The red freshets in the Cape Fear come from the Haw, and the white from Deep River. Two simultaneous freshets make the color of Cape Fear water, of course, like the Englishman's toddy "arf and arf."

A wheel can be turned at almost any point of the Deep River; and a large number of Manufactories could be placed, one after another, all along the stream, from above the coal as low down as the iron, the river affording fall enough to allow these machines to be close together.

Is it not remarkable that these three great sources of wealth should lie unimproved so long? They look like hidden talents. I imagine a Laplander would think so, as he traverses the long tract of frozen country, with his sled laden with ore of copper, en route for the cities of Norway and Sweden. The country between the Deep River and your city is not too rugged for a Railroad. Indeed the grading for a Railroad has been constructed, almost every foot of the way from Haywood, on the Deep River, to Page's, on the N. C. Railroad, eight miles West of Raleigh. But here the grading stands, washing away with every rain. Grass is growing over it, and it presents the appearance more of the ebb than the flood of prosperity. All along this grade the people are sighing for the cars.

If you will drive out some day and spend twelve hours at some suitable point on the Chatham County road, you will be astonished at the almost endless stream of wagons and carts, on their way to your city.—You are hardly out of sight of a vehicle all day long; and even at night they pass continually, endeavoring to get to a camping ground near enough the city to go in early next morning. They carry fruit, cotton, etc., in vast quantities. All this would naturally find its way on the Chatham Railroad, if there were only cars upon it. It is a rich and fruitful region.

Your former fellow-townsman, Maj. John W. Scott, has raised apples on his place which I think would average one pound each, that is, counting only the perfect fruit on the tree. I helped eat one apple which weighed eighteen ounces, and an excellent fruit every way.

But these are incidents along side of the basis of wealth of the land that calls for a Railroad, the coal, iron and water-power.—It has been estimated that Raleigh alone consumes fifty thousand dollars worth of fire-wood per annum. Raleigh alone ought to have built this Road from the saving in fuel in the past twenty-five years, by using Chatham coal instead of wood at the rate of of seven dollars a cord, the probable price paid by those who buy wood by the one-horse load.

Had this Road been built fifteen years ago, there would probably have sprung up by this time, in your city, manufacturing enough to consume a hundred thousand dollars worth of this coal per year. It would have increased the business of Raleigh, by this time, a quarter of a million a year, in ploughs, wagons, cotton goods, etc.

Why has it lain so long? Prof. Emmons reflected once upon our excellent and profound Prof. Mitchell, for not, as he said, revealing the hidden coal, and letting the world know of its existence. Dr. Mitchell calmly referred the (then) new comer, to the book and page of his work published long before, in which he had revealed the existence of coal on Deep River.

Yes, it has been long known, and yet, even in 1867, we can get no coal from Egypt.

It is refreshing to hear that there is good reason to hope this Chatham Rail Road is to be built certain. Some say, Dr. Hawkins says so. The Doctor ought to know. He represents a strong Company, out of debt I learn, and doing well. The R. & G. R. R. declared a dividend of five per centum, lately, we learn. Why not spend this, at least, on the Coal Fields Road? Three hundred thousand, they say, would finish it. It would increase the railroad interest very largely—resource that now goes no where.

The route is less than sixty miles—take the longest way you will. I know a coal deposit in Pennsylvania that gave rise to a Railroad of greater length than this. It is the Lackawanna valley. The Railroad has but one locomotive on it. The coal cars are drawn by stationary engines, planted upon the tops of hills. The cars are drawn up by long wire ropes: when they reach the top of the hill, they descend the other side of their own weight. And thus train after train is passed along, all day, up one hill and down another, until they reach the Hudson, when the contents are floated down to New York City.

But here is comparatively a level country—the grading done—a rich region—coal in demand—all the country sighing for the Road. Why not finish it? Let us have the Road. Let us have the coal and iron. Let us have the stirring sound of the shrill steam whistle, awakening from their long slumbers the drowsy old forests of Wake and Chatham. Let Deep River know that something else can roll and roar besides itself. And let all the nation know that North Carolina can make as good steam and as much of it as the next State.

AN INCIDENT WITH A MORAL.

Sometime ago the Sentinel published an article about the resources of North Carolina. It fell into the hands of a Mr. C. of Springfield, Massachusetts, who wrote out here for more information. A Deep River man corresponded with the stranger. And now there is reason to believe the Massachusetts man is near or in North Carolina, with a span of horses, landed at Norfolk, on his way to Deep River, to inspect the country, with a view to moving here.

North Carolina has an area of fifty thousand square miles, and a population of say six hundred thousand inhabitants, or twelve persons to the square mile; or, if we have a million of people, as some say, we have but twenty persons to the square mile. We want ten millions of additional population, provided they are of the right kind, men of good principles and good estates. Here is a wide home for all such. It would make ours a better State to have this increase.—But if we get them here, we must invite them with a country that offers, at least, means of transportation.

This Chatham Road would add another to the many charms of the "Old North State." Why not build it?

ITINERANT.

MR. DAVIS ON A SOLITARY PROMENADE—CARE FOR HIS DAUGHTER'S RELIGION—THE INFORMER AGAINST SURRATT.

MONTREAL, August 22, 1867.

I witnessed a somewhat curious sight yesterday. I saw Jeff. Davis walking all alone in Notre Dame street, and immediately recognized him, though he seemed to be at that point of the street incognito to the passers. He was dressed in a black suit—he has a very neat, tidy appearance always—wearing a felt hat, broad brimmed, southern fashion, and carries a cane. But this, be it said, en passant, he did not appear to need at all; for he walked perfectly erect, and with a very dignified step, diagonally across the little square in front of the cathedral [illegible] James street. however, he was recognized; and after be had entered the street quite a crowd gathered at his entrance. All eyes were strained to catch a good, long glimpse of the perambulating celebrity until he passed two long squares and out of view. Several remarks were made by members of the crowd; but there was no noise nor other demonstration, and Mr. Davis walked on entirely unconscious of the assemblage so quickly gathered in his wake to stare at him. It was droll. "And that's Jeff. Davis." "Where's he putting up?" "At a private house." "Where is he going now?" "He's walking out for exercise or going out to pay somebody a call." "How straight he looks." "His hair is yet quite dark behind, etc."

The other day I met a little girl who is an inmate of the Sacre Cœur Convent, and who is now passing her vacation outside its walls. Chatting away in a very lively way, she remarked that she knew Miss Davis at the Convent; that "she wanted to make herself Catholic, but Monsieur Jefferson Davis came and took her away." It is true that the child was taken away and sent to Mrs. Gordon's school, although I would not vouch for the cause alleged for such a course; more especially as it would have really been a poor return for all the good offices and sympathizing friendship received at the hands and hearts of the Pope, Cardinal, and the rest of Catholicdom.

St. Marie, the discoverer of Surratt, is here, dressed as fine as a fiddle, and promenading with a huge revolver slung around his waist. Probably he is on the lookout for Surratt's deliverance from jail; for it is reported that his fears are tolerably lively on that point. He displays immense handfuls of gold on entering the stores and barrooms, as I hear, but is everywhere despised in the city.

Ex-Senator Brown, of Mississippi, in his speech at Holly Grove to a mixed audience, gave expression to the following graphic comparison. The Ex-Senator remarked the Congressional plan was odious to him, but that we all should yield gracefully, and added:

"I know the locomotive is on the track; the steam is up. Old Thad. Stevens is engineer, and he is drunk with rage. I am not going to play the little bull, and butt the thing off. It might be courageous, but it would be very indiscreet. Old Thad. wants to run his engine over us. But I'll not give him a chance to run it over me. I'd rather step aside, and see him grit and gnash his teeth at his disappointment, than stand on the track, get run over, and witness the chuckling at my folly. I mean by all this that the Radicals in Congress want you to reject the proposed plan of reconstruction.—They have the will, the disposition and the power to force upon you still harsher terms; and as certain as that there is a Deity in Heaven they will do it. Do you ask how? I answer, by the very simple process of disfranchising a yet larger portion of the whites, and giving to vicious white men and ignorant blacks the exclusive right to vote. Do you ask, can Congress do this? What is it that Congress has not done?"

Those, however, who are waiting for a finality, will doubtless exclaim—"who's afeared?"

"UNIVERSAL AMNESTY" IS THE TRUMP CARD.—Bennett's Herald calls upon the President to play his trump card, which he declares to be "universal amnesty:"

"The moment has come; the revolutionary wave which freed the negro is now dashing him against the common sense of the country, to the ruin of its present interests and its future greatness. We are now threatened with a negro representative from each Congressional district in the South, and the code which is to govern the United States may receive laws based upon ignorance instead of education. The wave must be stopped; it has broken from the control of those who first gave it impulse. The national revulsion of feeling demands that it be halted, and demands, too, that Mr. Johnson halt it. Let him strike the blow; let him now give the country universal amnesty. The negro will then take his proper place; and in the light of freedom, which is his right, he may emerge from mental darkness. With universal amnesty the reconstruction problem will be finished at a stroke; intelligence will replace ignorance, and Puritanism and the negro may take position second to the common sense of the country."

RECONSTRUCTION IN THE WAR DEPARTMENT.—The work of reducing the working force and the expenses of the War Department is rapidly and regularly progressing.—The mustering out of volunteer officers whose term of services are no longer needed continues. It is stated that among those mustered out yesterday was included Brigadier General E. A. Hitchcock, Commissary General of Prisoners. It appears that since the conclusion of the war, up to this time, there has been an unnecessarily large number of clerks and messengers kept in this bureau when, in the opinion of General Grant, the work to be done in closing it up is sufficient only for the occupation of a few clerks.

The reductions already made in the current expenses of the War Department since the exit of Stanton are astounding, and those to be made will convince the country that there was something very rotten in the whole department organization when General Grant was called upon to let light into its bitherto darkened corners.—Nat. Intelligencer.

Our whole national troubles appear to spring from the color of the skin. We have had a blackskin war, and we are now threatened with a redskin war. By the time we reach a whiteskin contest we shall have used up our resources and buried the country.—N. Y. Herald.

The total sum handed to the Pope as Peter's pence by the French bishops is estimated at from fifteen to sixteen millions.

NORTH CAROLINA REGISTRATION.—On Thursday, the 15th instant, registration under the reconstruction acts began in North Carolina. It was preceded by an address to the people from Governor Worth, in which that patriotic official urges upon every citizen the duty of qualifying himself as a voter for future elections. With great earnestness and ability he boldly presents the issues at stake, and entreats the people to rally to the contest. He recognizes the importance of maintaining the supremacy of the white man, and shows how fatally it wi l be surrendered if all do not claim the little power reserved to them in the military bills.

We think that the address will have a good effect upon the registration in that State, and we hope to see her citizens acting with a resolute determination to preserve such vestiges of liberty as are vouchsafed them. The spectacle of a Southern Governor daring to make himself a leader of his people in the right direction is a rare one in these days, and furnishes a fine contrast to Pierpoint racing and yelping through Virginia like a mongrel cur with a tin pan attached to his tail.—Southern Opinion.

Col. Bingham, Principal of a prominent High School at Mebaneville, N. C., has favored us with a copy of his Grammar of the English Language, just out. We have not yet examined this book carefully throughout, but from the look we have given it, we are prepared to find it the very best English Grammar that has been published in America or England. It is full of innovations, of the old school, but the progress here is improvement. We shall examine it fully, as soon as practicable, and then we shall have our say about it.—Yorkville (S. C.) Enquirer.

RAILROADS.

NORTH CAROLINA

ALL STATE

RAILWAY LINES

FROM CHARLOTTE AND ALL POINTS ON THE N. C AND ITS CONNECTING RAIL ROADS TO THE SEABOARD AT WILMINGTON N. C, OR NORFOLK VA., via GOLDSBORO;

ALSO VIA PETERSBURG AND CITY POINT.

The Railways composing this all STATE RAILWAY line have recently agreed to unite in a route to all the Northern markets on equal terms and charges via our own ports, or by way of Norfolk or Petersburg Va., to and from the North.

GREAT THROUGH AIR LINE

No discrimination in favor of any place or city, only so far as to carry the great products of the State as well as return merchandise over the Railway lines largely owned by the State.

This arrangement, while it gives as great facilities and as cheap rates as by any other line, will aid in paying something into the State Treasury and into the common school fund, by which taxes will be lightened and the poor children educated. These are some of the reasons for a change of route to pass by Goldsboro.

The N. C. R. R., the Wil. & Weldon R. R. and the Seaboard and Roanoke Rail Road Companies, have agreed that all goods, not otherwise specially directed, shall pass by way of Goldsboro, for Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, at the same rates and in the same time that they can be carried by any other route

This has been arranged and freight trains now run in close connection from Portsmouth to Charlotte.

CARS RUN THROUGH WITHOUT BREAKING BULK.

☞ Be careful in shipping from New York to ship by old Dominion Steamship Co., 187 Greenwich Street, or Pier 37, North River.

FINE LANDS FOR SALE.

A Good Chance for Emigrants.

THE UNDERSIGNED, AND D. G. WORTH and N. G. DANIEL, of Wilmington, N. C., will sell a Tract of Land, in Horry District, S. C., some 25 miles South of Whitesville, at $3 per acre.
The Tract contains

ABOUT 3,200 ACRES.

About 00 acres of it was a swamp, through which a leading ditch has been cut, and about 150 acres of it put in cultivation years ago. Two straight parallel ditches, about 20 feet apart, about a mile long, making a good road between them, were cut, striking the leading ditch at about right angles; and on either side of these ditches the cultivated portion lies, divided into parallelograms by other ditches. The residue of the Swamp is covered by the natural forest, among which are White Oak, suitable for Staves, Poplar, Ash, Beech, Cypress and other valuable timber.

There is also another Swamp on the place, of about 250 acres, easily drained. Neither of them is subject to inundation. All of this Swamp Land is exceedingly fertile, as well that which is uncleared as that which has been cultivated and adapted to the production of exuberant crops of Corn and Cotton, as demonstrated by the actual culture of the portion cleared.

The surface of the uncleared portion is smooth, with very little undergrowth.

This Swamp Land is so fertile that it will produce the most exhausting crops for an unknown length of time, without the use of any fertilizer, and without material diminution of productiveness.

The residue of the Tract, say 2,500 acres, has on it a fine forest of suitable for producing Turpentine, Tar, and Timber. Much of the pine has been boxed and chipped some four feet high.

LONG LEAF PINE,

All of this pine land is admirably suited to the growth of the

and much of it is unsurpassed in its yield of the Sweet Potato, and is believed to be suited to the production of fine Wheat.

It has on it a

Two-Story Dwelling House,

with two brick chimneys, and rooms enough for a large family, and other out-houses. These buildings are substantial, though not very tastefully built.

Plenty of labor, at a reasonable price, can be had in the neighborhood.

This land is seven miles, by a good road, from the waters of the Wackamaw River, where the same is navigated by boats of 6 or 8 tons burthen; and some fifteen miles from Conwayboro', the head of Steamboat navigation on said river.

A very small part of the cleared land has been cultivated since the breaking out of the war; but may be put into cultivation with the inconsiderable expense of clearing out the ditches. A part of it is in cultivation this year, and its productiveness may be seen by any one wishing to buy.

WORTH & DANIEL, of Wilmington, N. C., will accompany to the place any person who may wish to treat for a purchase, or give a letter of introduction to some person who will point out the premises.

Dr. Jackson, of Whitesville, is well acquainted with the lands.

FRUIT TREES AND GRAPE VINES.

Those wishing to supply themselves with choice and improved varieties of FRUIT TREES and GRAPE VINES, from the famous Nurseries of Westbrook & Co, Greensboro, N. C., will please leave their orders with us, and we will deliver them the trees and vines at our store, opposite Market Square, Fayetteville Street.

We will be prepared, in a few days, to furnish Catalogues from which those wishing to order can make such selections as they wish before giving us their orders.

Choice fruit sells well in any market, and in view of the difficulty of procurring labor for the successful cultivation of Cotton, &c., farmers should lose no time in bestowing a portion of their attention to orchards and vineyards. An inconsiderable amount of money, expended now in the purchase of choice fruit trees and such grape vines as experience has proven to be best adapted to our soil and climate, will, in a few years, bring in the return of hundreds of dollars. Orders are respectfully solicited.

THE MILITARY COMMISSION.

UNITED STATES VS TOLAR, POWERS AND WATKINS.

SATURDAY, Aug. 24, 1867.

[We were in error in stating that no witnesses were examined on Saturday. The following proceedings were had:]

James H. Myrover, sworn:—Am editor of the Fayetteville News. Went to market house at three o'clock the day Bebee was killed, to hear his trial. Was not allowed to go up stairs. Arrived there before Bebee was brought from the guard house. There were about one hundred persons there. There was no particular excitement there while Bebee was up stairs. Saw Tolar and "Monk" there; noticed something peculiar about "Monk's" manner. Also Hall, Ed. Powers, Leggitt and Lutterloh were there—the latter not until after Bebee was killed. Hall was talking to witness, when Bebee came down, and remained with witness until after Bebee was killed. Witness then went to see Bebee's body, but Hall did not go with him.

Cross Examined: Saw Bebee as he was brought down stairs; saw Faircloth and Hardie with him, but don't recollect the names of any others; saw no violence to Bebee as he came down stairs. When he got down, saw the crowd rushing up. The crowd from the outside rushed up to the arch. Saw a negro woman running about, crying "they will kill that man."

Thinks Miss Massie went up stairs after Bebee. Saw Capt. Tolar, while Bebee was up stairs. Witness has told all he knows about it.

To question by the Court: Answered that he was attracted by "Monk's" singular appearance on that day, and his manner, which caused witness to inquire who "Monk" was.

Matthew Morgan, (negro) sworn: Was tendered by the defence to the prosecution, who declined to examine him.

Pending a discussion relative to the matter, the Court adjourned to Monday.

[The name of the witness published last Saturday, as Henderson "Locking," should have been Henderson "Lockeny."—Rep.]

See notice of important sale of fine horses, carriage, buggies, &c., &c., by B. P. Williamson & Co., on the 3rd. prox.

The exercises of Mrs. Ellen Mordecai's School will be resumed on Monday next.

REGISTRATION in this City was re-commenced on yesterday. The result was: Whites 140, Blacks 228,—making a total, thus far, of Whites 478, Blacks 568.

It will be continued for two days longer. We can add nothing to what we have heretofore said on the subject.

GOV. SWAIN'S ADDRESS.—We are pleased to learn that Messrs. W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co., with praise-worthy enterprise, will have printed, in handsome pamphlet style, the recent interesting and valuable address of Gov. Swain, delivered at the dedication of their splendid Hall. It is their purpose to publish, in connection with it, his address on the occasion of the President's visit, and engravings of all the maps of the city which have ever been made. The little book, it will thus be seen, will embrace a full and accurate history of Raleigh and its olden people, and will prove an invaluable historical contribution. As we have heretofore said, no one was so competent for such a work as Gov. Swain, and, in these two addresses, he has given us exactly what was wanted, and he deserves the thanks and grateful commendation of our citizens.

A NUISANCE.—During the delivery of Gov. Swain's address, at the Tucker Hall, on Saturday night, many persons were prevented from hearing by a constant chattering in various parts of the room,—principally among the white boys in the parquette and the colored boys in the galleries. And when there were demonstrations of applause, these were marred by unseemly noises on the part of the same rude urchins. This has always been one of the disagreeables attending public occasions and exhibitions in Raleigh. With the opening of the Tucker Hall, it is to be hoped that there will be a change in this respect, or that the police will always be on hand to remove offenders promptly. The thing has got to be an intolerable nuisance.

SPECTACLES LOST.—A pair of Gold Spectacles, belonging to a lady, were lost, on Friday afternoon, between Mr. Page's, on Hillsboro Street, and Dr. Crawford's. A suitable reward will be paid for their delivery at this office.

A pair of Silver Spectacles has also been lost somewhere between Davie Street and St. Mary's. The finder will oblige a needy and industrious woman by leaving them at the Sentinel office.

THE FAIR AT HENDERSON.—The Ninth Annual Fair of the Central Agricultural Society of Granville, Warren and Franklin will be held at Henderson, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 16th. 17th., and 18th. of October. We are indebted to the Executive Committee for the Premium List for the occasion, which is made up on a most liberal basis. In the absence of a regular State Fair, we hope that every county, at all accessible, will enter the arena of competition, and contribute to make the Henderson Fair a great success.

FLAKE'S Daily (Galveston) Bulletin contains the following announcement of the death of Willie Ramsay, who died in that city, of yellow fever, on the 10th. inst:

"We yesterday announced the death by the epidemic of Mr. J. L. Wheeler, clerk to Mr. Mason, news dealer. To-day we announce that of Mr. W. H. Ramsay, another from the same establishment. Mr. Ramsay was but 19, and recently came from Raleigh, North Carolina. Like his associate he was a young man of excellent promise and one who had cause to look forward to a future of great usefulness and respectability. The business relations of these young men brought them in contact with almost the entire community, and we have yet to hear the first person speak disrespectfully of them. Neither of these had any relatives in the city, and it may be some satisfaction to those at a distance to know that every attention which money or affection could bestow was given, and that if it had been within the compass of medical science to save them it would have been done."

WHAT THEY SAY OF HIM.—The Editor of the Henderson Index, who has recently experienced Blair's hospitalities, at the Yarborough House, makes the following complimentary mention thereof:

"We have often, in this State and out of it, heard and read of the superior manner in which this Hotel, under the management of Mr. Blair, was conducted; but not until our recent visit to Raleigh did we have the pleasure of witnessing and enjoying the genuine hospitality, liberality and courtesy, for which this gentleman has become notorious. We don't recollect to have ever stopped at a better regulated, more comfortable and pleasant house in every respect, than is the "Yarboro" now. We feel confident in asserting that it has no superior in the Southern States. All the pleasures and luxuries of a home are to be enjoyed there."

A LUMINOUS IDEA.—One of the correspondents of the Cincinnati Commercial is filled with an original idea so brilliant that we give the communication in which he embodies his discovery, as follows:

ODIN, ILL., Aug. 14, 1867.

To the Editors of the Commercial:

Herewith I enclose you a plan whereby Edwin M. Stanton may become President of the United States. Such a bit of poetic justice would thrill the heart of every loyal man throughout the land. Let Cameron resign; let the Governor of Pennsylvania appoint Stanton to fill the vacancy.—Elect Stanton presiding officer. The House can present impeachment papers against Johnson. Let the Senate oust him—Stanton becomes President. Cameron can be re-appointed, and Wade re-elected as presiding officer of the Senate. Justice is satisfied—the nation triumphant!

HOW THEY WERE DRILLED.—In Tennessee, at the midnight meetings in the loyal colored leagues, much time was devoted to drilling the negroes in the responses they were to make to various questions at the polls. This circumstance led to some comic incidents on election day. Old men, who had evidently the frosts of sixty winters on their heads, when asked their ages, gravely declared that they were past "twenty-two."

TENNESSEE.—She has Brownlow for Governor, and supports a standing army to execute his decrees, while her best people are outraged, exiled or murdered. Her judges are corrupt; crime, arrayed in purple and fine linen, vested with all power, sits in her high places, making a mock of religion, of justice and of decency.

The Louisville Journal says that a fence in that city is ornamented by two placards; which some wag has connected together by writing the word "and" between them, so as to make them read: "Use Hoofland's German Bitters, and Order your coffins from Holst & Co."

A candid Chicago paper says: "Chicago yields the palm to no other place in anything. When it is a question of rascality, Chicago is just as much ahead as in matters of enterprise and progress. Whiskey at 80 cents a gallon, and tobacco at 16 to 18 cts. a pound, are among the most common evidences of the skill of Chicago operators.—When a superior rascal graduates anywhere, he naturally comes to Chicago."

A swindler named Isaac Stanton recently escaped from Martinsburg, Pa., with $17,000 belonging to other parties, in his pocket.—He went to Toronto, where he lived in the most magnificent style, in the very presence of the detectives, whom the extradition laws gave no power to arrest him. A ruse was resorted to, and a telegram sent to him stating that his son, who had gone that morning to Lewiston, was severely injured. He crossed the line, and was captured.

The artesian well at Terre Haute, Indiana, emits a lively gas resembling in many of its effects sulphuretted hydrogen, as a young lady found to her sorrow, the other day.—She accidentally held her face, pearly with metallic paint, over the water for a moment, when a chemical affinity ensued, which transformed her countenance into a blackness darker than the ace of spades.

THE DISTRICT COMMANDERS—MOOTED CHANGES—ESCOBEDO'S LETTERS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26,—M.

The President's and Gen. Grant's correspondence relative to the removal of Sheridan is published this morning in the New York Herald and Boston Post.

White House gossip says that Sheridan, leaving Hartsuff in charge of the fifth military district, will proceed to the West and relieve Hancock, who will then assume permanent charge of the fifth Military District.

Swayne is spoken of as Pope's and Meade as Sickles' successor.

The Mexican legation publishes documents showing that Escobedo's letter against Foreigners are forgeries.

VIRGINIA PAUPERS—A CASE UNDER THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.

RICHMOND, Aug. 26, P. M.

Gen. Schofield has decided that the state poor laws shall be enforced with reference to the paupers to whom the Freedmen's Bureau has ceased giving rations.

By this decision all the black vagrants who crowded to the cities of Virginia after the war, will be returned to their respective Counties, where they are citizens. The pauper whites will be treated the same way.

The City Council is about opening a new almshouse for the blacks.

The case of the colored Canadian, who applied for redress because the owners of the steamship Hatteras refused him a first-class cabin passage, on account of his color, was decided by Commissioner Cahoon this morning. He decides that the Civil Rights bill only applied to American citizens, and that foreigners could not obtain redress under it.

THE RUMORED CHANGES IN THE CABINET; CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN GENERAL GRANT AND THE PRESIDENT IN REGARD TO SHERIDAN, &c.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 P. M.

The excitement in the N. Y. Gold room to-day, had its origin in the National Intelligencer's editorial of this morning, which only tells the old story, that the members of the Cabinet, in view of Stanton's tenaciousness, had informally placed their offices at the disposal of the President. There is no probability of immediate Cabinet changes.

Gen. Grant's letter to the President says "that the people who have sacrificed lives and spent dollars for their country's preservation, are evidently opposed to Sheridan's removal. He performed his duties faithfully and intelligently.—His removal will be regarded as an effort to defeat the Congressional views, and embolden to renewed opposition those who attempted to break up the Government by arms.

General Thomas has repeatedly objected to being placed in charge of either of the five districts.

Gen. Hancock's department is intricate and he should not be removed."

Gen. Grant adds: "There are military, pecuniary and, above all, patriotic reasons why this order should not be insisted upon."

The President, replying, is not aware that the question of Sheridan's retention has been submitted to the people. It would be unjust to the army, to assume that Sheridan alone is capable of commanding the fifth District.

Thomas' administration of the Department of the Cumberland, will compare favorably with Sheridan's government of the fifth District.

Sheridan has rendered himself obnoxious by his manner of executing the law, and more so by assuming authority not granted him. His rule has been one of absolute tyranny, without reference to the principles of our government or the nature of free institutions. His course has seriously interfered with the harmonious and speedy execution of the acts of Congress. His removal cannot be regarded as an effort to defeat them. The object of the change is to facilitate their execution through an officer who never failed to obey the statutes of the land, and within his jurisdiction will exact a like obedience from others."

The President compliments Thomas and Hancock, and feels sure that under Gen. Sherman's guidance, Sheridan will win honors fighting the Indians.

In conclusion the President fails to see any "military, pecuniary or patriotic" reasons why these orders should not be carried into effect.

RICHMOND, Aug. 26,—P. M.

A Republican colored meeting at Manchester, on Saturday night, was addressed by G. C. R. He was much applauded for the following sentiment: "Rather than not unclog the wheels of reconstruction, we should hang the President and Gen. Grant as high as Haman."

NEWS BY LAST NIGHT'S MAIL.

AN EXTRAORDINARY ORDER OF GEN. POPE.

A despatch from Augusta, Georgia, on the 21st, states that "General Order No. 53, from General Pope's headquarters, directs that grand and petit jurors for the trial of all cases in his department be hereafter drawn exclusively from the lists of registered voters, without discrimination. Sheriffs will require jurors to swear that they have registered, specifying the precinct and county, and the affidavits are to be placed on the file of the court."

This high-handed proceeding, excluding from serving on juries all who, by express enactment or forced construction, are denied the elective franchise, is nowhere authorized by any of the "reconstruction" laws.—Its manifest effect will be to place on future panels a majority of unlettered negroes.—National Intelligencer.

THE FIFTH MILITARY DISTRICT.

We are informed that dispatches have been received officially, announcing that the precarious condition of the health of Major General George H. Thomas renders it dangerous for him to attempt to proceed immediately to New Orleans to assume the command of the Fifth Military District, including Louisiana and Texas. The necessity for the presence of the military commander at that point is pressing. If General Thomas should not, within a few days, be able to report for duty, it is probable that Major General Hancock will be directed to assume the vacant command.—Nat. Intel.

JEREMIAH DAY.

Jeremiah Day, D. D., LL. D., ex-President of Yale College, died at New Haven, on Thursday night, at the age of ninety-four years. He was born at New Preston, Connecticut, August 3, 1772; graduated from Yale in 1795; took charge of a school for a year, and afterwards was chosen a tutor in William College, where he remained until he was appointed tutor in Yale in 1798. He was elected Professor of mathematics and natural philosophy in Yale in 1801. In 1817 he was elected President of the college, as successor of Dr. Dwight. He held this position until 1846, when he resigned on account of feeble health.—N. Y. World.

The United States soldiers at Camden, Ark., went to the office of the Constitutional Eagle the other day and completely destroyed the establishment, throwing the type into the street, and smashing the panes. The Mayor expostulated with the commander of the troops and received the answer: "The soldiers of this post have been exasperated by the pieces appearing in said paper. As long as the Herald, the cotemporary of the Eagle, pursues the course it is pursuing, it will not be interfered with." Neither assuming any responsibility or denying it.

Ex-Governor Foote, while defending a client in Nashville, recently got into a personal altercation with the Recorder, was fined several times for contempt of court, and finally committed to jail for thirty days. The fines were afterwards remitted, and the order of committal revoked.

Sheridan's "magnificent turn-out" at New Orleans has been much discussed. But his most magnificent "turn-out" is the one just furnished him by the President.

THE EXTINGUISHER.

A New Patent Fire Engine!

BY MEANS OF THIS invention the devouring flames can be subdued in less time than is required to write this notice, and thus your

Houses, Stores and Furniture,

and other valuables may be saved when they would be destroyed before a Fire Company could be summoned.

Always Ready, Powerful and Prompt, this little Engine is capable of being used at any time, by any person, and in any place, and consequently, of subduing a fire at the moment of its discovery even though it has already made alarming progress. The great damage usually done by the application of a large quantity of water by an ordinary Engine is almost entirely avoided by this process, as it is not the water which extinguishes the flame, but with which it is impregnated. It is the mere turning of a small tap putting it in complete operation without the slightest danger to life, health or property. It may be kept charged and

VERY SIMPLE IN ITS OPERATION,

and it need not be re-charged for months, or even for years—is so light that any person can carry it with the greatest ease, to any part of a building that may be on fire.

Entirely Self-Propelling, it requires no skill to manage it beyond what is necessary to direct the stream by means of a flexible tube.

The Extinguisher occupies no more space than a bucket of water; weighs, when ready for use, 75 to 95 pounds, is strapped to the shoulders and carried on the back with the greatest ease. It extinguishes fire promptly on Rosin, Tar and other inflammable material, where water produces no effect.

Wherever this Extinguisher has been tried it has proved Entirely Successful.

The following from a leading New York paper will show its vast utility in a great city; and on Railroads, Steamboats, and in Machine Shops, &c., it must be invaluable.

TIFFANY'S GREAT JEWELRY STORE, N. YORK—Saved by the New Patent Fire Engine.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning a fire broke out on the fourth floor of Tiffany's Jewelry Store, No. 550 Broadway. The fire occurred under a work-bench. The flames extended to the fifth floor.—The fire was discovered by a private watchman employed on the premises. Several clerks who slept in the building attempted to extinguish the flames, but were unsuccessful. An alarm was then given, and the fire patrol put out the fire with a Patent Fire Extinguisher. The damage to property was only about $200—insured at the Fireman's Insurance Co.—N. Y. Evening Post.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE NORTH AMERICA

LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY.

New Features and Advantages Which are Known as Belonging to no Other Company in the United States.

THE MANAGEMENT OF THIS COMPANY IS upon the Mutual Benefit System—the accumulated profits going to the assured.

This company makes a special deposit with the Insurance Department of the State, for which Registered policies are issued if desired, countersigned by the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of the State of New York, certifying that such policies are secured by pledge of public stocks.

No other Company gives the assured a guarantee of this character or anything equivalent.

Thirty days' of grace are allowed on all renewed premiums, and the policy remains valid and in full force during that time.

No restrictions as to travel or residence abroad at any season of the year, outside the tropics, which gives a nearly world-wide and unconditional policy.

No higher rate of premium charged for stationary Engineers, Conductors, Baggage Masters, Mail Agents, nor in consequence of change of employment after the policy is issued.

Notes are not required by this Company, but a loan may be obtained on the policy for one third of the annual premiums, which is cancelled by the profits applied as dividends.

Joint policies, including man and wife, are issued by this Company, and the amount insured is payable to the survivor on the death of either.

Our dividend, January 1st. 1866, was 45 per cent.

Dividends are declared annually, and paid on settlement of 4th. Annual Premium, on all our plans upon the full amount of premiums received.

Premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly.

All policies issued by this Company are non-forfeiting, after two, in some instances, and three annual payments in others.

The per centage of premium receipts in 1865, over 1864, was 251 per cent; which is nearly double that of any other New York company.

Policies incontestable from any cause except on account of fraud.

IMPROMPTU

On reading the following lines in "Cain."

"For what should I be gentle? for a war
With all the elements ere they will yield
The bread we eat? For what must I be grateful?
For being dust, and groveling in the dust,
Till I return to dust?"

Ask'st thou why shouldst thou gentle be?
Look round thee! seest thou not,
Examples bright of gentleness,
In palace and in cot;
And thousands blessed not as thou art,
With meekness bear their lot.
Think, think, upon thy blessings, and
Be gentle—murmur not.

For what shouldst thou be gentle? see
Stretched on a couch of pain,
And dreaming of the happy home
He may not see again,
Yon pale and sleeping sufferer;
Too soon he must awake—
No kindred hearts are near him now,
Be gentle for his sake.

Or turn thee to yon church-yard where,
Deserted and alone,
A fond, grief-stricken mother sits
Beside a new laid stone;
She's weeping for her parted one,
Whose life has been so brief.
Be patient with the mourner and
Be gentle to her grief.

For what shouldst thou be gentle? Lo!
Despite the wind and rain,
Yon aged man walks feebly on,
His daily food to gain;
And see! the homeless, friendless one,
Has tottered to thy door.
Be kind to his infirmities,
Be gentle to the poor.

For what shouldst thou feel gratitude?
The balmy air of spring,
The birds, the flowers, and everything
That happiness can bring,
The soft green turf beneath our feet,
The mild blue sky above,
Each should be source of gratitude,
Of thankfulness, of love.

For what shouldst thou feel gratitude?
Insensible is he,
Who can think of His love to us,
And still ungrateful be;
For none, however lofty or
Obscure the path he's trod,
But has some cause for thankfulness,
And gratitude to God.

RECONSTRUCTION.—SUPPLEMENTAL BILL NO. 2

PASSED AT THE JULY SESSION.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it is hereby declared to have been the true intent and meaning of the act of the second day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, entitled an act for the more efficient government of the rebel States, and of the act supplementary thereto, passed on the 24th. day of March, in the year 1867, that the governments then existing in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas and Arkansas were illegal and void, and thereafter the same governments, if continued, were to be continued subject in all respects to the military commanders of the respective Districts and to the authority of Congress.

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted, That the commander of any district named in said act shall have power, subject to the approval of the General of the armies of the United States, to have effect till disapproved, whenever in the opinion of such commander the proper administration of said act shall require it, to suspend or remove from office, or from the performance of official duties and the exercise of official powers, any officer or person holding or exercising, or professing to hold or exercise, any civil or military office or duty in such district, under any power, election, appointment, or authority derived from or granted by, or claimed under any so-called State or the government thereof, or any municipal or other division thereof, and upon such suspension or removal such commander, subject to the approval of the General aforesaid, shall have the power to provide from time to time for the performance of the said duties of such officer or person so suspended or removed, by the detail of some competent officer or soldier of the army or by the appointment of some other person to perform the same, and to fill vacancies occasioned by death, resignation or otherwise.

SECTION 3. And be it further enacted, That the General of the armies of the United States shall be invested with all the powers of suspension, removal, appointment and detail granted in the preceding section to district commanders.

SECTION 4. And be it further enacted, That the acts of the officers of the army already done in removing in said districts persons exercising the functions of civil officers and appointing others in their stead are hereby confirmed; provided that any person heretofore or hereafter appointed by any district commander to exercise the functions of any civil office may be removed, either by the military officer in command of the district or by the General of the army; and it shall be the duty of commanders to remove from office, as aforesaid, all persons who are disloyal to the government of the United States, or who use their official influence in any manner to hinder, delay, prevent or obstruct the due and proper administration of this act, and the acts to which this is supplementary.

SECTION 5. And be it further enacted, That the boards of registration provided for in the act entitled "an act supplementary to an act entitled 'an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,'" passed March 2, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven, shall have power, and it shall be their duty, before allowing the registration of any person, to ascertain upon such facts or information as they can obtain, whether such person is entitled to be registered under said act, and the oath required by said act shall not be conclusive on such question, and no person shall be registered unless such board shall decide that he is entitled thereto; and such board shall also have power to examine under oath (to be administered by any member of such board) any one touching the qualification of any person claiming registration. But in every case of a refusal by the board to register an applicant, made in every case hereinafter provided, the board shall make a note or memorandum, which shall be returned with the registration list to the commanding Generals of the Districts, setting forth the ground of such refusal, or such striking from the list: Provided, that no person shall be disqualified, as a member of any board of registration, by reason of race or color.

SECTION 6. And be it further enacted, That the true intent and meaning of the oath prescribed in said supplementary act is (among other things) that no person who has been a member of the Legislature of any State or who has held any executive or judicial office in any State, whether he has taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States or not, and whether he was holding such office at the commencement of the rebellion or had held it before, and who has afterward engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof, is entitled to be registered or to vote; and the words "executive or judicial office in any State" in said oath mentioned shall be construed to include all civil offices created by law for the administration of the general law of the State, or for the administration of justice.

SECTION 7. And be it further enacted, That the time for completing the original registration provided for in said act may, in the discretion of the commander of any district, be extended to the 1st. day of October, 1867; and the boards of registration shall have power, and it shall be their duty, commencing fourteen days prior to any election under said act, and upon reasonable public notice of the time and place thereof, to revise for a period of three days the registration lists; and upon being satisfied that any person not entitled thereto has been registered, to strike the name of such person from the list. And such board shall also during the same period, add to such registry the names of all persons who at that time possess the qualifications required by said act who have not been already registered, and no person shall at any time be entitled to be registered or to vote by reason of any executive pardon or amnesty for any act or thing which, without such pardon or amnesty, would disqualify him from registration or voting.

SECTION 8. And be it further enacted, That section 4 of the said last-named act shall be construed to authorize the commanding general named therein, whenever he shall deem it needful, to remove any member of a board of registration, and to appoint another person in his stead, and to fill any vacancy in such board.

SECTION 9. That all members of said Boards of Registration and all persons hereafter elected or appointed to office in said military districts, under any so-called State or municipal authority or by detail or appointment of the District Commanders, shall be required to take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by law for officers of the United States.

SECTION 10. That no District Commander or member of the Board of registration or any of the officers or appointees acting under them shall be bound in his action by any opinion of any civil officer of the United States.

SECTION 11. That all the provisions of this act, and the acts to which this is supplementary, shall be construed liberally, to the end that all the intents thereof may be fully and perfectly carried out.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th. section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, House of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God," which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

ST. CLEMENT'S HALL.
A FIRST CLASS SCHOOL FOR BOYS,
ELLICOTTS MILLS, Md.,
(NEAR BALTIMORE.)

THIS SCHOOL WAS ESTABLISHED FOR the purpose of enabling SOUTHERN BOYS, at a comparatively moderate cost, to enjoy all the advantages that are afforded in the best and most expensive Northern Schools.

It has been, already, eminently successful.—The Hall is a large and beautiful edifice. The Household is under the immediate charge of the Rector and his wife. The pupils are all received as members of the family; strict attention is given to their health, personal habits and to the cultivation of courteous manners, while every care is taken to unite the comforts of a home, with the strict discipline of a School. In these respects, this Institution claims to have no superior in the country.

The Teachers are all gentlemen of fine classical attainments, and the instruction is of the most thorough kind.

Circulars, containing full particulars, with references and list of pupils, will be sent to any address.

Rev. J. AVERY SHEPHERD, A. M., Rector.
